Jobless Pay Has Priority

Kennedy Lists 16 Bills In Legislative Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today gave Democratic congressional leaders a list of 16 bills he wants to have priority in the legislative program. It is topped by extension of unemployment compensation.

The leaders said they promised the President speed action.

"I think now that we are going to have full steam ahead," Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., told reporters after the breakfast meeting of House and Senate leaders at the White House.

Greatest Tieup In History

Three Airlines Closed Down; Others Snarled

NEW YORK — (AP) — Three of the nation's largest airlines were shut down completely today as a result of a flight engineers' wildcat strike that has caused the greatest tieup in American aviation history.

The next three items among the President's proposals are additional federal aid to the dependent children of unemployed fathers, improvements in Social Security benefits and a $300-million bill for aid in redeveloping depressed areas.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said of matching importance will be a general farm message, proposed changes in former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's budget, and water and natural resources legislation.

The other bills on the 16-point list were:

The support and control program for feed grains, increasing the $1 minimum wage, federal aid to education, health care for the aged under Social Security, aid for college education, aid for medical education and research, federal support for expansion of community health facilities, extension of the Government Reorganization Act, ratification of U.S. affiliation with the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, creation of 59 new federal judgeships, establishment of an office of international travel and easing of restrictions on trade with Iron Curtain countries.

Despite Republican opposition to some proposals, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana predicted Kennedy's measures will get speedy action in Congress about ready to buckle down to work after relative inactivity during the new President's first month in office.

The Democratic leader called Senate committee chairmen to a meeting later in the day to map a program for "adequate and prompt consideration" of the Kennedy program by the Senate.

He noted that the Senate had passed on a voice vote Monday a bill to set up a United States travel service to attract foreign tourists to this country.

For City Councilmen

Primary Election Set for March 7

Candidates for the City Council will run in a primary election in accordance with an ordinance passed Monday night calling for a primary election to be held Tuesday, March 21. The ordinance also set out a closing date for filing for office, deadline is 5 p.m. March 7.

The ordinance also designated the polling places and named the judges of election. The election calls for a polling place in each of the 16 precincts of the four wards, names two Democratic and two Republican judges with the judges of election to select a clerk from each party.

The filing fee was set at $5 for each candidate.

After the ordinance had been read for the first time, Councilman Raymond Roberts took the floor and stated he was objecting to it. "I want to explain why I am voting against it," Roberts said. He pointed out it was estimated the election would cost approximately $3,000 to hold an election in each of the precincts. He said it should be compared how much it would cost for each vote.

Roberts also brought out that it was forcing a candidate to win two elections and would be costly to him.

Presented to Council Monday

Petitions Seek to Oust Members of Water Board

By D. Kelly Scruton

The City Council Monday night was presented with petitions asking the removal of the Board of Public Works members who direct operation of the Sedalia Water department. The petitions presented were placed on file and contained the names of approximately 1,500 Sedalia water users.

In a portion of the council meeting entitled "For the Good and Welfare of the City," City Clerk Ralph E. Dedrick announced he had a number of petitions asking the removal of the Water Board. The Clerk said there were about 1,486 names, and said most were filed on Feb. 18 and five were filed Monday in his office.

Mayor Abe Silverman then said, "Is there anyone in the audience who would like to speak? I might be making a mistake in asking." Silverman smiled in making his remark.

Stanton Hudson, publisher of the Sedalia Times took the floor and remarked, "I am somewhat instrumental in the circulation of these petitions. There was no concerted effort made, nor any money spent and the petitions were circulated voluntarily and contain something over 1,500 names."

Hudson then introduced William B. Couhig owner of the Bard Drug Co., who took the floor and said: "Honorable Mayor, members of the City Council of Sedalia" and fellow citizens. First, I would like to make my position clear in the matter we are about to discuss. I am Bill Couhig, resident, property owner and taxpayer of this city. I have been asked by a group of citizens to be their spokesman at this meeting. I have no axe to grind with anyone; I bear no malice toward anyone or any group I may speak about; I have no political aspirations and I have only a bare speaking acquaintance with the present Board of Public Works."

"Secondly, I shall not take your time in a complete review of this sorry situation; but rather I should like to give you a picture of the way this thing appears in the eyes of the interested citizens of Sedalia.

"A few years ago the citizens voted overwhelmingly to purchase the water company from private ownership, by means of a bond issue. This bond issue was sold to the voters under the premise of no increase in water rates. What is the thought of these people that voted for that bond issue today? I'll tell you!

They think that the issue was misrepresented, because of the action of the Council in allowing this raise in rates and they are correct in their thinking!

"Thirdly—the Board of Public Works—now this will demand some scrutiny—The Board of Public Works or the Water Board as we shall refer to them, having dissipated the $170,000.00 they had in the treasury when the city commenced the municipal operation of the Water Department and having indebted to the tune of $25,000.00 or $30,000.00 this same department called upon Black & Veatch, the Cadillacs of the engineering firms and in effect said,

"We have gone through with a fifth of a million dollars, and we're in trouble! Review our situation and give us a proposal

Parents with children in Sedalia's Public School system received a letter Monday regarding a free tuberculin test for school children.

The letter, signed by T. J. Norris, vice-chairman of the Tuberculosis Testing Program for Pettis County, asked parents to fill out and sign an enclosed request form, giving permission for the child to take the TB test.

Sponsored by PTA's, extension clubs, and other community organizations, and co-ordinated by the Missouri Division of Health, the test is to find if any young people are infected with tuberculosis and to find the source of that infection. Funds for the free tests come from the county TB association's annual sale of Christmas seals.

"The test is made by putting a small amount of clear fluid between the layers of the skin of the forearm," the letter states.

"The test is harmless and cannot possibly cause tuberculosis since there are no tuberculosis germs, either dead or alive, in the fluid. The child's arm must be examined approximately seven days following the test."

"A majority of those tested will have a negative reaction—no evidence of tuberculosis. No letter will be sent to parents of children showing a negative reaction. A letter will be given children with positive reactions."

"Parents will be contacted by

'Just Luck He Wasn't Smoking'

Arson Attempt Not Funny To Man Who Foiled Plot

A lighted cigarette could have spelled disaster for Sedalia's business district Sunday afternoon, Feb. 12. Mr. John (Jack) G. Crawford still is very conscious of that fact and he's thankful he was not smoking when he entered the gasoline-soaked office in the Gordon building that afternoon.

Mr. Crawford, in keeping an appointment with this reporter Tuesday morning at the Bothwell Hotel coffee shop, commented as we met at the door, "I can't help looking over my shoulder occasionally and half expect to find someone there with a sub-machine gun." He laughed, but it was apparent that Mr. Crawford, while perhaps not really concerned for his own safety, has realized the role he plays in the "great mystery" of an attempted arson that apparently has local law enforcement agencies baffled.

During our conversation, Crawford related an incident that happened just prior to his finding the gasoline-soaked room directly above his new office in the Gordon Building.

He explained that the phone in the office he had just moved out of across the hall from his new office was ringing that Sunday afternoon and by the time he unlocked the door the phone had stopped ringing. Shortly afterwards, he said, another phone in one of the offices in the building also rang briefly. Questioned about other phones ringing in other offices, Crawford said: "I can't remember; they may have but I can't be sure. They could have rung before the phone in my old office rang or after it had rung."

"You know," he said, "If I'd have known that later in the day I would have discovered what I did, I would have been paying closer attention and would have remembered everything that happened."

Regarding his find on the third floor of the building, after Mrs. Crawford had noted what appeared to be a water spot on the ceiling of the new office, Crawford said a stream of gasoline was spurting from the first box he saw as he entered the room, "as big as this pencil," he said holding up a retractable lead pencil. "I thought I could stop

Reds Bow To Will Of People

Permit Council To Approve UN Use of Force

Flight Is Apparently Successful

Craft Is Recovered After Worst Test Flight Imaginable

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States today selected three astronauts to begin final training for a manned rocket flight expected in two or three months.

The three are John Glenn, Virgil Grissom and Alan Shepard.

Robert Gilruth, Mercury project director, announced the selection at a news conference after the successful firing of a space capsule of the type to be used in manned flight.

Glenn, 39, of New Concord, Ohio, is a lieutenant colonel in the Marine Corps. He and his wife, Anna, have two children, John David, 14, and Carolyn Ann, 13.

Grissom, 34, of Mitchell, Ind., is a captain in the Air Force. He and his wife, Betty, have two sons, Scot, 11, and Mark, 7.

Shepard, 37, of East Derry, N.H., is a commander in the Navy. He and his wife, Louise, have two daughters, Julianne, 9, and Laura, 13.

Shepard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alan B. Shepard of Derry, N.H., said today they're "very proud that he has been chosen." And they added they'd be even prouder if their son is picked to make the rocket flight.

"We're confident," the father added, "that the government will take every possible precaution when the flight is made, so that there will be no undue risk involved."

But Grissom's mother, Mrs. Dennis D. Grissom moaned, "Oh, no!" when told he was one of the three men chosen.

Shortly before the vote on the Asian-African peace plan, the council smashed down, 8-1, a Soviet resolution calling for an end to the U.N. operation in the Congo within a month and for the dismissal of Hammarskjold.

The vote on the resolution, which was sponsored by the council's three Asian-African members was 9-0, with the United States on the winning side. Despite its bitter opposition to the U.N. operation in the Congo and Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's direction of it, the Soviet Union abstained, apparently unwilling to incur the anger of the uncommitted Asian and African nations by a veto. France also abstained.

The aim of the test was to determine what happens when such a spacecraft returns through the atmosphere under the worst possible conditions.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that the Atlas launcher and the spacecraft itself performed satisfactorily.

If the capsule survived with little effects, it will be a tremendous boost to this nation's hope of sending an astronaut into orbit late this year.

The floating capsule was sighted at 9:32 a.m. and the recovery, by helicopter, was made 21 minutes later.

The bell-shaped capsule was aboard the Donner at 10:09 a.m.

Battle Over Withholding Tax Begins

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The majority Democrats of the Missouri House advanced Gov. John M. Dalton's withholding system for collecting the state income tax on an 83-63 vote today.

That gave the bill just four more than the 79 it will need later for final passage.

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The House today began a long and bitter argument over Gov. John M. Dalton's proposal for a withholding system of collecting the state income tax.

It became apparent early that most of the 57 minority Republicans would oppose the bill. The key question appeared to be how many of the 100 majority Democrats would defy the governor's heavy pressure for his bill.

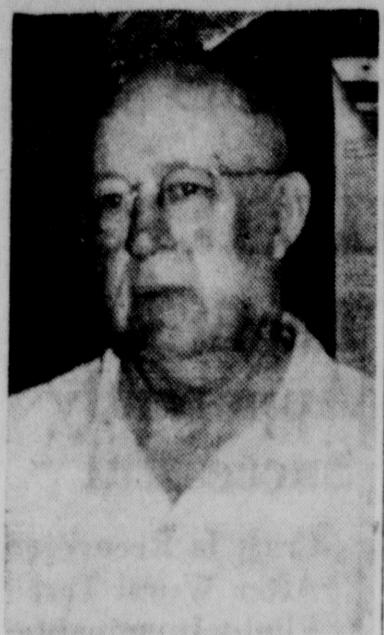

Both parties held secret caucuses just before the session to plan their strategy.

The majority floor leader, Rep. James G. Trimble, D-Clay County, started the show by offering two Dalton amendments, both of which he called technical.

But one would have employers start withholding employee taxes on the first day of the calendar quarter following the effective date of the act.

That indicated some fear on the part of the administration it could not win passage of the emergency clause in the bill, which would make it effective immediately after its passage by both houses, plus 105 House votes to pass an emergency clause, only 79 to pass the bill itself.

Hubbard Team Wins Over Freeman High

Johnson In Spectacular Performance

LaMonte Vikings Are Eliminated In First Round

In the Class "S" regionals at Warrensburg, Monday night, Ron Johnson of the Hubbard High School Tigers turned in a spectacular 43-point performance to help with the 90-49 victory over Freeman High School. The regional tournament is being played at the Central Missouri State College.

The LaMonte Vikings were eliminated from the first rounds when they fell victim in a "sudden death" overtime in their game with Garden City 52-53. It was a terrific contest between these two teams who had to move into two overtime periods, following a game tie of 49-49 and the first overtime period saw both teams scoring two-points with the Vikings getting one and Garden City two in the final.

Hubbard had an easy time overcoming Freeman, particularly because of the fine performance of Ron Johnson. Enos Johnson was a big contributor to the cause with 20 points.

The Hubbard cagers took a 26-9 lead in the first period and that was pretty much the way it went throughout the game. Strongest effort by Freeman came in the third period, good for 16 points while Hubbard tallied 20.

Freeman's Frans was top scorer for his quintet with 18.

The win puts Hubbard up against Uriah in a second round game Wednesday night at 6:30.

The LaMonte-Garden City game saw the Vikings jumped to a first stanza lead of 14-11 but failed to stave off a drive of 15-11 by Garden City which gave them an intermission lead of 26-23. In the third quarter the Vikings scored 12 to six and were out-scored 17-14 in the final stanza to see the game tied. Both teams playing it cagy in the first overtime were able to score only two points each. LaMonte picked up a free throw in the second overtime, but then Garden City came through with two points, all that was needed for a "sudden death" victory.

Rumpf of the Vikings led the scoring drive of the game collecting 20 points while Hartler and Wood were the high pointers for Garden City with 13 each.

Cape Indians Are MAIA Champions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cape Girardeau State Indians won their first MAIA basketball championship in 18 years with a 62-59 victory at Maryville State Monday night.

The Springfield State Bears defeated Rolla Mines 91-83.

DeWayne Bond, Maryville's 6-8 ace, withdrew from school just four hours before gametime. Despite his absence, the Bearcats stayed within four points of Cape all the way and even took the lead at 53-51.

Cape's Ron Grey, high scorer at 23 points, and Vivon Reed tied it at 55-all and then hit the final seven points.

Bond, who had averaged 15 points a game, said he was going back to Houston University, where he played as a freshman. Rodney Esh, 6-4, replaced Bond and made 11 points.

Cape, with an 8-1 league record, has only a game with Rolla left. Maryville stands 5-4.

At Springfield, the Bears built a 52-33 half time lead only to have Rolla pull within one point midway of the second half.

Gene Day made 26 points for the Bears and Jim Good 22 for Rolla.

Machines May Displace the Migrants As Automation Comes to Harvest Time

DAVIS, Calif. —(NEA)— Automation may be on the verge of plowing under another big chunk of manpower—the American migrant farm worker.

According to scientists at the Davis experiment station, one of the three biggest in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, most major crops can and will be harvested automatically in the immediate future.

Bugs have already been worked out of machines capable of remarkably complicated farm tasks.

Even nature is being redesigned by the agriculturists. Pods, vines, roots and berries are being rebuilt in keeping with modern mechanics.

It's not only wonderful, the scientists say. It's so economical that 100,000 grape pickers in California may no longer be needed.

Picking tomatoes, a harvest requiring constant vigilance over a number of days while the crop ripens, has been simplified in the laboratory. A new tomato recently developed ripens everywhere on the vine at exactly the same time.

At the proper time, a shake of the vine and the crop has been harvested. This year five on-the-farm automatic tomato pickers were at work. Next year the number will be 50.

New experiments with automated peaches are working wonderfully well, Davis scientists report. The system: uniformly ripening peaches and several banks of canvas blankets plus a machine to jolt the tree at the moment of maturity. The peaches fall from one canvas blanket to another, slowing down to drop gently into waiting baskets.

Sugar beet harvesting used to require several stages. The first, early in the season, was to prune alternate beets out of the ground, leaving more room for bigger growth of those that remained.

Today, an electric eye finds the beets to be weeded. Automatic knives follow electronic instructions. And later in the season, the machine purrs along and finishes the job.

Best of all is the new grape harvester. According to Dr. Maynard Amerine, chief of the Davis department:

"I've been trying to find out for 25 years how a grape gets ripe. Meanwhile, harvesting costs have gone up from $10 to nearly $50 a ton. At the same time, vineyard land has increased in value as cities and industry have spread. With labor cost and taxes rising steadily, many farmers have gone out of business."

Now grapes have been educated to hang down from a predetermined height. At harvest time, one man in a small vehicle drives through the vineyard, forcing a knife through the grape stems. On varieties where stems were too short, the grape has been grafted onto longer-stemmed vines.

If Amerine's calculations are correct, a quarter of an automated crop can be lost in the harvest and the profits still will be higher than they were with laborers doing the job.

The step to other crops—cucumbers, oranges, cabbage, potatoes, you name it—is just ahead.

Now, what about those farm hands put out of work? Well, it's not a problem for the Department of Agriculture anyway.

"But who wants to go out and pick cotton and carry it around," one man said. "It's miserable back-breaking work. There are a lot of better jobs."

He did not say what they were or where.

Interrupts Her Rehearsal To Settle a Claim

DALLAS, Tex. — Actress Judy Garland interrupted her rehearsal at the State Fair Music Hall Monday long enough to settle a $1,050 claim brought by a hotel for a bill delinquent since 1957.

The pay-off came 2½ hours after the filing of a law suit against the actress by attorney David Witten in the name of the Stoneleigh Hotel.

The hotel alleged that $800 of a $3,200 bill run up by Miss Garland and her husband, Sid Luft, in 1957 was still unpaid. It also requested $250 in attorneys fees.

"We finally agreed to settle for $750," said Witten.

Spokesmen for Judy, staying at another Dallas Hotel, said it was a "misunderstanding."

EXPERIMENTAL GRAPE HARVESTER IN ACTION: The vines are rebuilt, too.

Kitty Hawk Launched As Ships Stop

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—The super-carrier Kitty Hawk, the longest ship afloat, put to sea today for the first time and shipping on the busy Delaware River was halted so she could pass.

The 60,000-ton aircraft carrier eased from her berth at the New York Shipbuilding Corp. yard across the river from Philadelphia shortly after 6 a.m. and began four days of trials to test her engines and operating equipment.

The Kitty Hawk is 1,047 feet in over-all length and 252 feet wide. The river channel is 400 feet wide and the Kitty Hawk needed every foot to maneuver on the 59-mile trip to the mouth of the Delaware.

The $25-million Kitty Hawk's 108 jet and propeller-driven craft will include two-engine A3D jet bombers, and eventually the larger A3J Vigilante attack bombers. The Navy says her catapults and four acres of flight deck will be able to launch and land even larger planes.

The Kitty Hawk—named for the North Carolina town where the Wright brothers flew the first power-driven plane—is the first warship in U.S. Navy history without conventional mounted guns.

The ship is the first aircraft carrier to use surface-to-air guided missiles for protection. Launchers built into the stern of the ship can fire Terrier missiles at a rapid clip against attacking craft. The pencil-like, 15-foot long Terriers have homing devices of unerring accuracy.

The Kitty Hawk will be commissioned on April 29. After a shakedown cruise, the carrier will join the 7th Fleet in the Pacific.

Your Eyes and Visual Functions

Two popular TV broadcasters are using a new term in some of their programs. They speak of vision delinquents. The Missouri Optometric Association would list the following as likely examples of vision delinquents.

The very young child whose parents hopefully expect the child to "outgrow" an increasing tendency of one or both eyes to turn in or squint, and the preschool child who has not had a visual analysis to determine visual readiness to enter kindergarten or first grade.

The child who is achieving less than expected in school, who ranks in the lower third of the class or who fails a grade.

The employee who undertakes a new job or vocation without making certain that eyes and vision are well adapted to the work that is to be done.

Any person in the late thirties or early forties who has not had an examination of eyes and vision in the last year or two.

The driver of a car who does not have an occasional examination to determine visual fitness to drive safely.

Any person who uses glasses purchased at the bargain counter or at sensationally low priced sales.

In fact, any person who has not had a careful, pain-taking visual analysis in the past two or three years could be classified as a vision delinquent.

First Venture For JFK To Be Canadian Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will visit Canada in what probably will be his first venture outside the United States since taking office.

A date has not been fixed. Kennedy will make the trip in time to address a joint session of the Canadian Parliament before it adjourns. It is expected to wind up in early summer.

Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker announced Kennedy's acceptance of his invitation on return to Ottawa Monday from a White House visit.

The exchange of visits and a joint statement issued at the White House after Diefenbaker left were indicative of the close relations between the two countries.

In the statement, Kennedy and Diefenbaker reaffirmed the determination of their nations to work together for peace and freedom in the world.

In talking to newsmen in Washington, Diefenbaker in effect rebuked Canadian neutrals. He said Canada "does not intend to be neutralist regardless of the opinions expressed by some people."

Air Force Has Titan Closer to Readiness

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force has moved its Titan intercontinental range missile a step closer to operational readiness with a second straight successful 5,000-mile test flight.

The 98-foot missile smacked a target in the south Atlantic Monday night after a 30-minute 17,000-mile-an-hour flight. Officials reported it achieved all test objectives.

The missile carried nearly all components which will be on the final combat-ready design. The Air Force timetable calls for Titan to be operational in mid-summer.

Among new bills was one to put into effect a constitutional change approved by the voters last November. It would let cities set up local industrial development commissions, prepare plans for industrial projects and vote revenue or general obligation bonds to finance the project.

The Senate received bills to:

Put all local government units on annual budgets.

Make the state Civil Defense Agency permanent, extend its authority to natural disasters like floods and raise the director's pay from $7,500 to $10,000 a year.

Appropriate $160,000 for the rest of this fiscal year to finance the state's share in surplus food distribution programs.

How You Meet Monday Is Real Test of Character

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—How you meet Mondays is a real test of your character.

Nobody in the office has a hard time getting through Friday. It is the last day of the work week, and everybody is perched on cloud No. 9, twittering with joy as he waits for the clock to strike quitting time.

But your office Monday bird differs from the Friday bird. He knows the work week is just beginning, and the freedom of Friday seems a continent away. He tends to chirp a different tune.

Yet it takes different kinds of birds to make any aviary. Probably if you look around your office some of the following types

Heart Rates Top Billing To Japanese

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Things I've learned about Japanese movie tastes:

You gotta have heart. That's the secret of film success here. "The Alamo" is a big smash in Tokyo. "Spartacus" is a flop. Reason: the former has heart, the latter doesn't.

The hit of "The Alamo" was a puzzler to this visitor, since it has had rough going in the United States. Besides heart, it has three prime elements for Japanese fans: 1. Length; 2. John Wayne; 3. Unhappy ending.

Biggest sensation of Hollywood stars is Audrey Hepburn. You see hundreds of teen-age girls with the Hepburn hairdo. They often buy movie mags just so they can show their hairdressers how they want it done.

Another big factor for film success: music. Movies with haunting themes are big hits. Younger fans know Charlie Chaplin not because of his comedy but because of the "Limelight" theme.

Yet Hollywood musicals usually bomb. "Gigi" did no business, nor did "Can-Can." But "Daddy Long Legs" was a hit. Why? It had heart.

James Dean still lives in Japan. His pictures play the provinces and the movie magazines feature spreads on Dean.

The big Christian epics are not sure-fire in Japan. Sources here say a lot of Japanese were fed up with Christian teaching during the occupation. This could mean trouble for the upcoming "King of Kings" and "Greatest Story Ever Told."

Many Japanese teen-agers are favoring the French films, which are offering bright young performers. They are tired of middle-aged Hollywood stars. Only American newcomer to catch on here is Sandra Dee.

Movies about Japan usually flop. "Sayonara" did so, because audiences couldn't recognize it as Japanese.

"Mein Kampf," the documentary about Nazi horrors, has done big business in Tokyo. But so has "The Great Dictator," in which Chaplin took a comic view of the Hitler menace.

Westerns are still the most popular attractions. Brigitte Bardot never caught on in Japan. Nor are the Japanese wild for Monroe, Mansfield or other sex symbols.

Saucy Comedy Is Appreciated By British Royalty

LONDON (AP)—A sexy Hollywood comedy billed as "the sauciest dish ever set before a queen" won the applause Monday night of British royalty and shocked one critic.

The film, "The Facts of Life," deals lightly with a married man's vain attempt to commit adultery with his wife's best friend. It stars Bob Hope and Lucille Ball.

It was a pretty daring theme to be chosen for the annual royal film performance. But Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret, and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones, obviously were delighted.

As they left the celebrity-studded Odeon Theater, the queen mother told movie industry officials: "It was a most enjoyable evening and we all liked the film very much."

Of the critics, only Paul Dehn of the Laborite Daily Herald voiced any complaint.

"Filmgoers with less need to be careful of appearances may laugh their heads off, but I say this is not a film to put before a queen," he protested.

City Council

that will keep us from financial embarrassment for all time!" And for a considerable fee, Black & Veitch did that very thing! a 35 per cent increase and no compromise! The Water Board simply notified the water users of this municipality that effective on or about Jan. 1, 1961 the rate to users would be increased approximately 35 per cent.

"You the members of the Council, obviously feeling that you were being steamrollered immediately passed the 5 per cent self protection ordinance.

"Then after considerable haranguing you voted to allow them a 15 per cent increase at the last Council Meeting. Did they say thank you, we will try! No sir, they said: "All the Council will allow us is 15 per cent! It can't be done on this 15 per cent! But they didn't resign! Not on your life! As of this very minute they are desperately hanging on! We citizens cannot conceive in our wildest dreams, any men other than the present Water Board members, subjecting themselves to the abuse and criticism, that these men have, without resigning. Why? Maybe Mr. Hudson has it when he states in his most recent editorial in The Sedalia Times, and I quote—"Apparently there must be something under the table where the board sits beside their feet!" End of Quote.

"At this point I feel that I should inject a note that is probably common knowledge to you Council men, which may not be known to all the citizens of this city. Mr. Bagby, the former mayor of this city called one of our councilmen and suggested that the Council forget the 5 per cent stuff and allow the Board the 35 per cent that they had requested? Why?

"Mr. Cramer of the Schrader and Cramer Construction Company called this very same councilman and suggested to him the same as Mr. Bagby had! Why? And here's the frosting on the cake! Schrader of the same firm of Schrader and Cramer Construction Company but affiliated with a different political party, called the only Republican councilman we have, and requested the same increase that Mr. Bagby and Mr. Cramer did! Why?

"This brings us to the petition—less than two weeks ago a group of irate citizens met and decided to advise the Council by way of petition of our feelings and of our request in this matter. These were not Democrats or Republicans or even Bull Moose or Socialists, as far as I know. These are merely honest God fearing citizens, expressing to their councilmen their will—their feelings, in this matter.

"In approximately ten days with no organization whatsoever, we are submitting to you our Council tonight, the signatures of approximately 1,500 water users, tax payers and citizens of our community, for your rejection, or better still, your action!

"With more time and proper organization we feel that we could have gotten double—yes—even triple this number of signers. Most not elected by one half this number. Please note that these signers come from all walks of life—doctors and pharmacists, business men and shopmen, clerks in stores, factory workers, cab drivers, housewives, retired pensioners, domestic workers and many other segments of our society.

"Now comes the time for your action or rejection, whichever it may be. I have told several councilmen that it was my personal belief that any member of this governing body who failed to stand and be counted for this petition was dooming himself to political limbo and I now reaffirm this belief publicly, here and now!

"As to the legality of your removing the board—Mr. Salterer, the attorney for the Water Board was kind enough to furnish us with such information in the Sedalia Democrat on Sunday Feb. 11th issue and I shall read from the same:

"Mr. Mayor shall I read the clipping, I think everyone already knows about it?" Couhig asked.

Mayor Silverman remarked, "I don't think it will be necessary." Couhig then continued by saying:

"Now that the legal aspect of this situation has been clarified; we place our petitions squarely in the laps of you, our elected representatives!

"The eyes of Texas may not be upon you tonight, but the eyes of the citizens of Sedalia are certainly on you! Borrowing the most beautiful phrase, from the most beautiful prayer of all Christian prayers — Our Lord's prayer—which says, "Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven." we humbly request of you, our councilmen: that you do our will while here on earth.

"Thank you for your kind indulgence!" Couhig concluded.

After Couhig had concluded, Councilman Pat Clark asked the speaker what other Alderman was called other than the Republican Councilman, Mr. Cunningham. Couhig answering Clark said, "It is quite obvious about Mr. Cunningham, he's the only Republican on the Council."

R. M. Battles of the West-Side Variety Store then took the floor and made a few remarks. Battles brought out he had no wish to bring in any personalities. "I feel the members of the Board of Public Works are good in their own private business but I am astonished at the way they handled the business affairs in public office."

Battles declared the members were defiant and arrogant in their attitude against the Council and the people of Sedalia in demanding the 35 per cent rate increase. He again said he had no personalities to discuss.

He told the Council he had studied the sales agreement between the City of Sedalia and the then owners of the Water Company and he felt it was fair. He brought out that the agreement was fair inasmuch as the then owners only wanted the company kept in good condition, which would protect their own interest.

Battles referred to a note with a local bank which he told the Council he understood was paid on the last day of the month and was to remain on until the second day of the following month so as not to show it on the records of the water company. In closing he said "I believe the Board should be summarily dismissed."

Mayor Silverman then stated on behalf of the Council he would accept the petitions and, in keeping with the practice of the Council procedure refer them to the Fire and Water Committee composed of Councilman R. N. Snavely, Raymond Roberts and Pat Clark, for their study and recommendations. The committee will report their recommendations "one week from tonight."

No sooner had Silverman concluded his routine announcement, than Councilman Roberts was on his feet and told the Council he felt any recommendation the committee might make would have no effect on the other council members. "I move they be referred to the whole Council."

Snavely was in agreement with Roberts and seconded the motion. On voice vote it was passed.

Councilman Cunningham took the floor and moved the Council recess and make a decision now. His motion died for want of a second.

Cunningham then said "Under good and welfare, I want to call attention that tomorrow (Tuesday) is the last chance for voters to register for the City election. I suggest it be publicized so the unregistered can get registered."

"As to the legality of your removing the board—Mr. Salterer, the attorney for the Water Board was kind enough to furnish us

Quiz, Game Shows Back In Numbers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—In the fall of 1959, as an aftermath of the quiz show scandals, a lot of television programs disappeared from the networks. Most of them were programs in which the audience participated.

Now, however, the quiz and game shows are back in greater numbers than ever, although the financial rewards aren't as great. Most of them are in daytime spots with a predominantly female audience.

Audience participation shows use up 37 weekly hours of network television—more than Westerns or even situation comedies. They range all the way from CBS' high-level "College Bowl" on Sunday afternoons, when teams from institutions of higher learning match brain power, to ABC's "Queen for a Day" on which contestants match hard luck stories for dishwashers and sets of matched luggage. In between are all the games shows—"Video Village," "Say When," "Truth or Consequences"—many of them adapted from parlor or children's games.

There are more than a dozen of these, and an adroit housewife, if she twirls her channel selector carefully, can watch them every weekday from midmorning to mid-afternoon without a break.

NBC currently is undisputed king of the audience-participation show. It puts on seven shows every weekday. In addition, has the Groucho Marx show on a weekday night, "People Are Funny" on Sundays, and its prime-time evening version of its daytime success, "The Price Is Right" is rated among the top 20 shows in TV. All this consumes 19 hours of NBC time each week, and it will be 19½ hours when an evening version of "Concentration" goes into the schedule in April.

ABC devotes 12½ daytime hours a week to its audience participation shows.

CBS, which discontinued all its audience participation shows in late 1959, is quietly getting back into business. Last season it reopened the door with its daytime "Video Village." On March 13 it will toss three others into its channel: "Double Exposure," "Surprise Package," and "Face the Facts." To do it, it will junk two soap operas—"The Clear Horizon" and "Full Circle"—and reruns of perennial "December Bride."

Soon lucky viewers with nothing else to do will be able to watch audience participation shows for a total of 45 hours a week, although they will need two or three sets to do it on because there are conflicts.

Proposes Subway Be Turned Into A Tunnel of Art

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., popped up with a new idea Monday—converting the Senate subway tunnel into a tunnel of art.

Why not, he suggested in a resolution he introduced, give the states an opportunity to put works of art—scenes of beauty or of historic sites in the states—along the brightly lighted walls of the subway?

It could be known, he said, as the "Subway of States."

These works of art, Curtis told his colleagues, would attract additional tourists, beautify the 1,400-foot tunnel and promote cultural interest among the senators themselves as they ride between the Capitol and their offices in a nearby office building.

$3,000 In Cash In Rubble-filled Home of Recluse

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A 23-year-old Bible and $3,000 dollars in cash were found in a rubble-filled home of Andrew Rowe, 69, a recluse.

Two bills apparently were printed in the 1700s. One was a three-dollar and the other a four-dollar note, authorities said. Also found in the home were several copies of Harper's Weekly dated May, 1863.

City health department workers have removed seven truckloads of debris from the two-story home since Saturday.

Neighbors said Rowe, a retired city sewer worker, lived in the house alone for about two years without heat and water. He is held for observation at a hospital.

Latin American Troops to Join US in Exercise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Troops from some Latin American countries will join U.S. paratroopers in a simulated defense of the Panama Canal March 1-4.

The Defense Department, in announcing this Monday, said the military training exercises, labeled "Operation Solidarity" will be in keeping with the concept of collective hemisphere defense.

Military representatives from Western Hemisphere nations will observe the joint maneuvers along with members of the Inter-American Defense Board.

The troops, plus tactical jet fighters and reconnaissance planes, will cooperate in meeting a threat to the canal caused by an imaginary "external force" which also has invaded a member Latin American nation.

Is It a Military Superman?

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—You, too, can be a superman. No topics. No pills. No exercises. But you might have to join the Army.

Quartermaster Corps scientists are beginning to push for the development of a fantastic metal skeleton which a GI would wear around his body. It would give him super strength, endurance and mobility.

As a GI moved his hands, arms, legs and feet, the power mechanism in this skeleton would be "automatically activated" to multiply his strength in much the same way as power brakes and steering increase the power of a car driver.

If the Superman gadget works out as hoped, an ordinary soldier could carry six to eight times as heavy a load, push 10 to 20 times as hard, twist with his wrist 50 times as strongly, grip five times as firmly as he can now.

The "skeleton," it's now believed, would consist of splint-like attachments about the arms, body and legs. These attachments would pivot at shoulders, elbows, wrists, hips, knees and ankles. The wearer could climb, crawl, run and lift "naturally."

For combat use, the mechanism would be designed to convert each soldier into a fast-moving and highly-mobile one-man tank.

The military men hope this Superman gadget someday will enable GIs to make long marches with heavy equipment. A GI could walk "tirelessly" over rugged mountain trails and climb "impossible" cliffs. He could dig into the rubble of bombed-out cities and ports, toss aside large beams, move giant pieces of wreckage in superhuman rescue and repair jobs, and clear roads of debris with ease.

He could carry and fire large recoilless rifles, single-handedly load or unload heavy artillery and sizeable missile rounds, trucks and ships for a long time effortlessly. He could squash an enemy soldier between his bare hands.

The Army figures that a successful Superman gadget would have a "significant" impact upon the handling of heavy, large, unwieldy military supplies such as airdropped cargo and missile components.

The Army wants this gear to be easy to get in and out of in case it breaks down.

Engineers looking into this Superman rig have high hopes. But they think it might take a decade before it is perfected and produced in quantity.

There are dozens of very difficult problems to solve. A powerful but light fuel and motor must be found. The skeleton, to be practical, probably should be made of strong, light and flexible metals.

Breakdowns embarrassing to troops in battle have to be prevented.

Already, one company, the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory of Cornell University at Buffalo, has sent in a conceptual proposal for the Superman. The Army is now looking it over.

Reds Dusting Off Strategy for '61

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—President Kennedy took office at a time when international communism is reviving its revolutionary strategy of the turbulent 1930s.

The coming "era of revolutions and national liberation wars" is forecast in the declaration issued in Moscow by the conclave of Communist leaders from 81 countries.

The consensus of specialists who have now analyzed the bulky document is that a major East-West war is unlikely in 1961—or in the foreseeable future.

Even the Communists, according to the Moscow declaration, now concede that an atomic war will "result in hundreds of millions of casualties" and "cause unheard of damage to whole countries." Once they professed to believe that an atomic holocaust would destroy the capitalist West but spare the Communist East.

Though war in Red double talk is no longer "inevitable," there is nevertheless little prospect of real peace during Kennedy's tenure of

Farmer Owes Life to Eyes Of Passerby

GALLATIN, Mo. (AP)—A 38-year-old farmer owes his life to the sharp eyes of Archie Blackburn. Paul Holcomb was recovering today in a hospital from a 64-hour ordeal in a wrecked car in freezing weather.

His three companions are dead. Martin Kenneth Boulton, 41, and Lucky Norris Holcomb, 41, were killed when the car plunged off a curve during a heavy rain Friday night and hit a tree in a deep ravine.

Paul Holcomb and Lewis Lee Smith, 41, were trapped in the wreckage. The Holcombs were not related.

Blackburn, knowing that the four Gallatin men were missing, went back for another look yesterday when he glimpsed car tracks in a pasture two miles west of Gallatin.

He found the wrecked car, hidden so well that a farmer, Glen Sullenger, feeding livestock just 50 yards away, didn't know it was there.

"If Blackburn hadn't noticed those tracks it could have been weeks before the men were found," Sheriff S. L. Houghton said.

"Paul Holcomb was conscious enough to know me, but he couldn't talk," the sheriff added. "Smith died as we were putting him in an ambulance."

It was warm Friday, so the men were wearing only light clothing. But Saturday brought snow and that night the mercury dropped to 12 degrees above zero. Sunday night's reading was 22.

Paul Holcomb, with a broken leg, broken finger, lacerations, bruises and shock, could hardly move in the wreckage.

"The doors were jammed and we had to pry them open," Sheriff Houghton said. "The window on Paul's side was broken. I think he probably knocked it out in trying to get out."

"He's mighty lucky Blackburn saw those tracks."

Two Escapees Recovering From Their 'Freedom'

LANSING, Kan. (AP)—Two convicts are recovering from the hunger and frostbite suffered during three days and two nights of freedom.

Ralph Dillon Smith, 25, of East St. Louis, Ill., and Ernest Edward East, 36, Blackburg, Va., who escaped from the Kansas Prison honor farm during a rainstorm Friday night, were captured late Monday in a gully about three miles south of the prison.

Their only shelter had been in haystacks and they hadn't eaten since Friday, they said. They could hardly walk on their frostbitten feet.

Smith and East had just entered a vacant house Monday afternoon when they were seen by Raymond Golden, who called Sheriff Bob Woodson.

The sheriff found them in the gully and they surrendered readily after he fired a shot over their heads.

East was serving 5 to 15 years for grand larceny and Smith was doing 1 to 21 years for statutory rape.

office. This, too, is spelled out clearly in the Red document.

The Moscow declaration, like Hitler's "Mein Kampf," is in effect the Communists' blueprint for the eventual global defeat of non-Communist nations. It is undoubtedly the most revealing strategic plan released by the Reds since Stalin's death in 1953.

Those policies won at Moscow's Red summit conference—Khrushchev's or Mao Tsetung's?

Since Russia and Red China are irrevocably committed to the overflow of any state not Communist-dominated speculations of this sort may seem unrealistic. Yet the fact that there is dissension among the two Red giants is vital for the West's survival.

The Moscow declaration is clearly a compromise between Khrushchev and Mao. It is a truce while they jointly subvert the non-Communist nations, especially in Latin America, Asia and Africa.

Khrushchev won out on peaceful coexistence. Red China, as a gesture toward the "unity of the socialist camp," will now pay lip service to his view that capitalism can be destroyed without actually risking an atomic war.

However, Khrushchev had to put a new tag on his pet policy to appease Mao. There is now little peace and still less coexistence in Nikita's policy of peaceful coexistence.

The declaration says this clearly: "Peaceful coexistence presupposes an intensified struggle of the working class and the Communist parties for the triumph of the socialist ideals."

More significant is the fact that Mao's policy of revolutionary brinkmanship was backed in Moscow by the Reds from Asia and Africa. The party representatives from Latin America—Argentina, Venezuela, Cuba, Colombia, Uruguay and Chile—also joined Mao's East.

Khrushchev, despite his apparent victory, had to rely mainly on the support of the West European Communists and Moscow's East European satellites.

On the question of revolutions and civil wars in the underdeveloped countries it is Mao's and Khrushchev's line that the declaration reflects.

The declaration firmly supports liberation movements and national liberation wars in Asia, Africa and Latin America," is the gleeful comment of Peiping's People's Daily.

According to specialists on communism, there is also nothing in the declaration to prevent Mao's continued hostility toward the United States as leader of the non-Communist camp. Even any mention of another East-West summit conference was significantly omitted.

Khrushchev loves summit meetings where he can gain concessions, however minor, and shine as the spokesman of the "oppressed peoples."

In preparation for another summit the regimented Russian press has gone to some length to describe President Kennedy's election as a "repudiation" of President Eisenhower's "war-mongering policies."

Mao is against summits with the "imperialists" especially where China is excluded. Thus, the Chinese press obviously to forestall another summit, pictures Kennedy as "another loyal slave to U.S. capitalism" who, like Eisenhower, "will firmly continue a policy of aggression and war."

Though the Communists claim to have achieved "socialist unity," this much is certain: there are now two Meccas in the Red church—Peiping and Moscow—and international communism will apparently continue to speak with two voices.

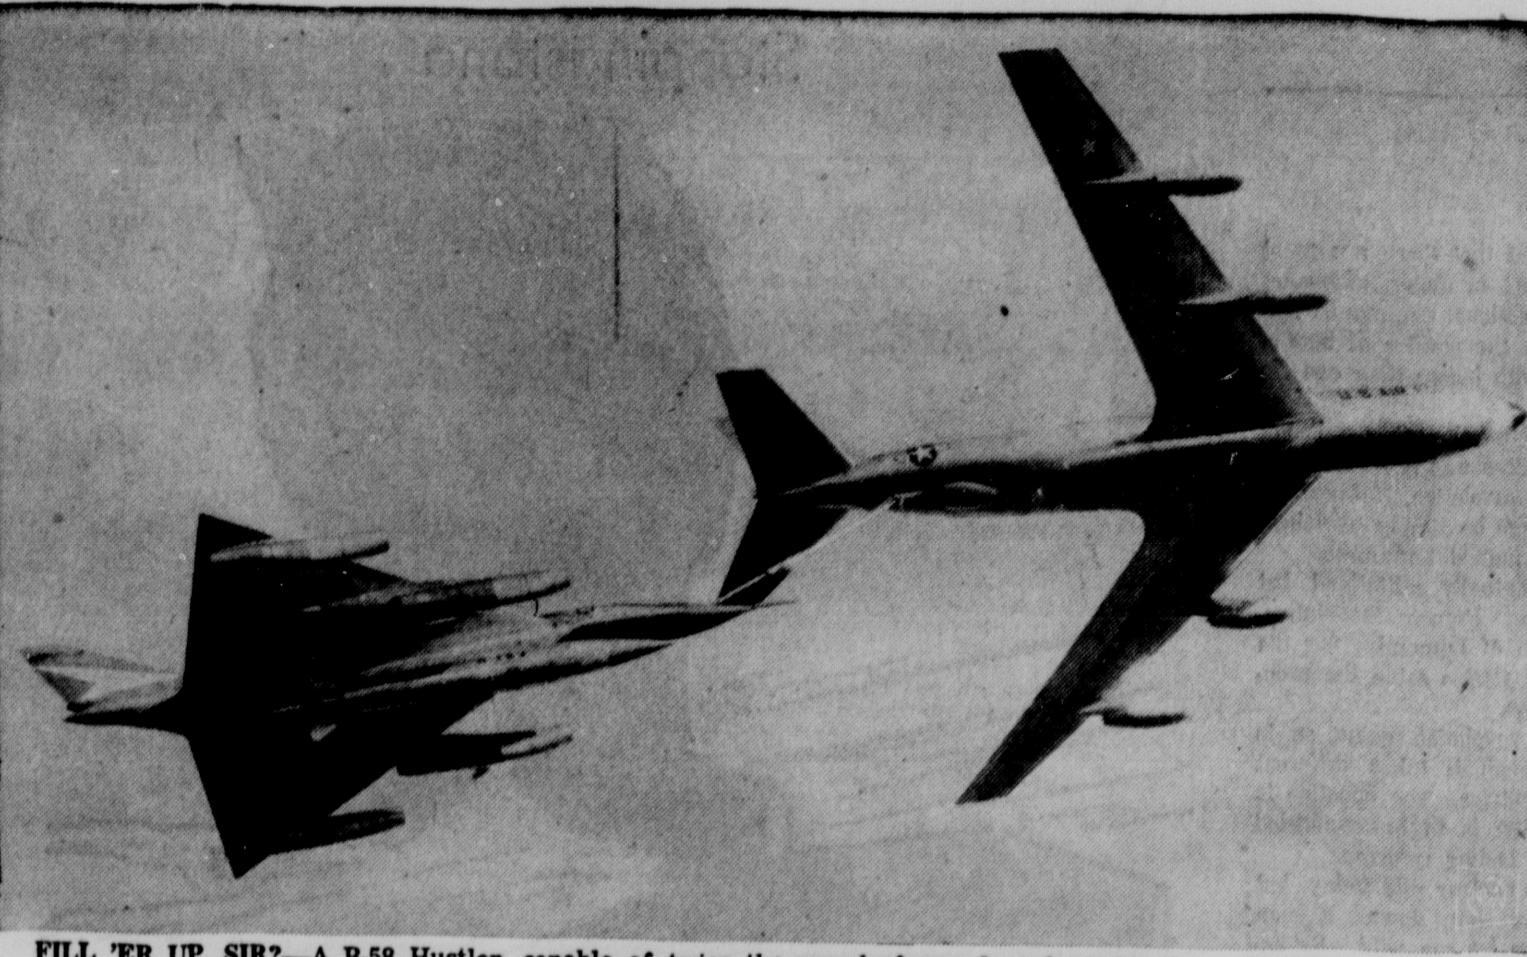

No high-sounding declaration of common aims or of faith in the teachings of Lenin can conceal the fact that the two major Communist powers are unable to agree on how their goals are to be realized.

This will make President Kennedy's task of reaching a general East-West agreement more difficult. But it also gives him an opportunity to turn Red dissension into Western strength by inaugurating a wise and dynamic foreign policy especially in Latin America and in the other underdeveloped nations.

Past PTA Presidents Are Honored at Founders' Day

Mark Twain School PTA held its Founders' Day program Thursday night, Feb. 16, honoring past presidents.

As the past presidents arrived they were met at the door by Mrs. Theodore Wells, Founders' Day chairman, who pinned on them a clever name tag of gold and blue with a small gold gavel tied in the center and the years they served as president written on them. They were seated together in the front of the room.

The meeting was then called to order by the president, Mrs. Claude Lambirth and Mrs. Harry Wahrenbrock gave the devotional.

The fourth grade, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Faulkner, sang several songs of the era that PTA was founded. A large gold frame was on the stage and Michele Ferrari stood in it and sang a tribute to the past presidents.

Three quiz games were played. The first was for former pupils of old Prospect School, the second for former Mark Twain students and the last for everyone. Everyone had a lot of fun answering some of the questions truthfully. Prizes were given.

Candy Wells then wheeled in a large birthday cake and as Mrs. Wells introduced each past president they lit a candle on the cake and told a few things that happened while they were president.

Those lighting the candles were: Mrs. Herbert Schrankler, Mrs. H. C. Sammons, Mrs. Lloyd Roe, Mrs. C. M. Gates, Mrs. Henry Menefee, Mrs. Ervin Robinson, Mrs. Gib Owen, Mrs. Addison Taylor, Mrs. Haskell Cook, Mrs. C. E. Van Horn, Mrs. Theodore Wells, Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, Mrs. Claude Lambirth and Jack Delph.

A silver tea followed the meeting with the hospitality committee in charge.

Mrs. Wells asked anyone who wanted to add a message on the tape to Miss Slater, which many did.

Small Revolt Is Thwarted As 60 Are Rounded Up

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Venezuelan authorities reportedly have rounded up 60 military men and civilians after nipping a miniature revolt against the government of President Romulo Betancourt.

Jack Delph then announced he would show anyone wishing to see the new cafeteria through it after the meeting.

The room count was won by Mrs. Boeschen and Mrs. Painter.

Mrs. Wells was then introduced and explained that the entire meeting was being taped on a recorder to send to a former principal at Mark Twain, Miss Nina K. Slater. Miss Slater is now living in Michigan but does keep up with all her former pupils and enjoys hearing from them.

Admits Role In Gas Theft At Refinery

INDEPENDENCE, Kan. (AP)—Robert D. Hensley, testifying as a defense witness Monday, admitted during cross-examination that he helped steal gasoline from the Coffeyville Cooperative Refinery.

County Atty. Glen Tongier said he would file a charge against Hensley today.

A refinery dock worker, Hensley hadn't been suspected in the theft of 1½ million gallons of gasoline over an 18-month period.

He was arrested when he left the witness stand.

Eight other persons have been charged in the case. Four have been placed on probation; the jury failed to reach a verdict in the trial of another, and two are awaiting trial.

Hensley was testifying in the trial of the eighth man, Clyde Cross, former dock worker.

Tongier, cross-examining Hensley, suddenly asked if he was involved in the thefts, and Hensley blurted, "Yes."

The Boiling Cauldron

Nobody likes to be insulted, either as an individual or as a citizen of a nation. Nobody likes to hear his country attacked or vilified or disparaged by another nation. The instinctive reaction is to reach for a club, and dispassionate reasoning becomes an unpopular attitude.

That is what is happening today. In recent years, months and days, Americans have been amazed again and again at expressions of dislike and distrust for the United States and its allies—in South America, in Cuba, in the Congo, in the United Nations.

It seems most unfair, for if American history is not a sham, this country has always stood for freedom and the right of the common men of all nations to pursue their individual happiness. This country has fought for those ideals, many Americans have died for them.

All this seems to count for nothing today, as the United States is held up by some as the chief enemy of world peace, the source and symbol of imperialism.

Too often, anti-American or anti-Western riots and revolutions are written off as "Communist inspired," implying that Communists possess some kind of magic, hypnotic charm that can transform quiet, reasonable folk into fanatic anarchists.

Undoubtedly these phenomena of our time are Communist inspired in many, or even most instances on the surface. But this easy verdict ignores the fact that there are great undercurrents of unrest in many nations of the world. Even professional Communist agitators must first have the powder of human frustrations to work with before they can set off an explosion.

Americans must realize that Castro is not Cuba, just as Robespierre was not France at the time of that great revolution. Neither can the turmoil in the Congo be simply explained as caused by a man named Lumumba.

Robespierre was eventually guillotined, but that did not end the French Revolution. Neither will the death of Lumumba nor the wished-for downfall of Castro solve the problems of those countries.

There is only one revolution going on in the world today, though it takes different forms in different countries. The question is not how this revolution is to be channeled into constructive and lasting reforms.

The world is like a nuclear pile today, but one which cannot be shut down. It can either be controlled or let run wild. Its energy is vast, and can be utilized either for good or ill.

In their distaste for petty despots, Americans should not lose sight of the underlying causes which have allowed tyrants to come forward. We had our own revolution, and its magnificent results can still hold out hope for nations striving for national expression.

But we have to prove it to them.

'McCarthyism' on Weaver Fizzles

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson is news-gathering in South America. In his absence his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON—Like an episode out of the McCarthy era, the sordid story can now be told how a few southern senators tried to pin the Communist label on Robert C. Weaver in an attempt to block a Negro from becoming the nation's housing chief.

The case against Weaver was prepared by the White Citizens Council, the new sheetless Ku Klux Klan, which mailed a set of "documents" to Mississippi's crafty Sen. James Eastland.

He carefully removed all marks identifying the source and circulated the material among his southern colleagues. They assumed the "documents" had come from the files of his internal security subcommittee.

Louisiana's brusque, brittle Sen. Allen Ellender was so impressed with the Eastland material that he rushed up to Sen. Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican, on the Senate floor and tried to invoke the Dixiecrat-Republican coalition against Weaver.

"We have something on this guy Weaver, and it has nothing to do with race," Ellender confided.

The FBI and the House committee on un-American activities cleared Weaver—but not the White Citizens Council. Lean, scowling Sen. Bill Blakley, the temporary senator from Texas, cross-examined Weaver about the "documents."

The housing chief made the charges against him appear so ridiculous that the spectators almost hooted Blakley out of the room. At one point, the bumbling Blakley didn't recognize the famous pseudonym, Jim Crow, which symbolizes segregation in the south. He asked about a book review which appeared in a Communist publication.

"This seems to be J. Crow, realtor Blakley announced gravely.

"Who?" asked Weaver, apparently not sure he had heard right.

"J. Crow, realtor," repeated the senator.

"Do you know J. Crow?"

"I didn't know he wrote book reviews," smiled Weaver.

This book reviewer seems to have been J. Crow, realtor," insisted Blakley, still not catching on. "He went under another name sometimes, I suppose."

By this time, the spectators were howling with laughter. They continued to snicker and chuckle throughout the hearing, indicating that the McCarthy methods have gone out of style.

Tongue-Tied

Another admiral has had his tongue clipped as he was about to sound off on national policy. He is Maritime Board chairman Ralph Wilson, a retired vice admiral, who had intended to tell an American Legion post how he thought the cold war should be conducted.

The first draft of his speech goes as far as Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges who remembered that President Kennedy had just cracked down on Adm. Arleigh Burke, the Navy chief, for the same offense.

Hodges sent Wilson a confidential note, suggesting that he limit his speech to maritime matters. The disgruntled admiral snorted over the suppression.

"It seems in this administration," he complained to his staff, "that you can't talk about limited war or cold war or the realities of the Russian menace."

Note—in his censored speech, Wilson had planned to advocate invasion of Cuba.

General Nuisance

Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, has become so preoccupied with trivialities that his aides are whispering he won't last long on the new frontier.

He is puffing and blowing now over how pictures of the joint chiefs should be autographed. He has issued elaborate instructions that the Army, Navy, and Air Force chiefs must sign their names directly under his. Their signatures must also follow the same slant.

Lemnitzer personally supervises everything that goes on in his office. He is the only top authority in the Pentagon, for instance, who won't let his limousine or plane be moved unless he is consulted.

Lemnitzer's first big crusade as joint chiefs' chairman was to restore to the Army two houses that had been assigned to the Air Force at Fort Myer, next door to the Pentagon.

He finally persuaded President Eisenhower, as one of his last acts, to sign a presidential decree taking away two of the three Fort Myer homes allotted to the Air Force. The third is now being remodeled for Gen. Tom White, Air Force chief, at a cost of $80,000.

Burke's Broadside

Adm. Arleigh Burke, the Navy chief, was fuming over a Drew Pearson column the other day when he barged into a military briefing for freshman senators.

The Navy chief apologized for arriving a few minutes late.

"I suppose," suggested Maurine Neuberger, the lady senator from Oregon, who had read Pearson's comments about Burke, "that you had to stop and read Drew Pearson's column."

This triggered the ire that had been building up in Burke, and he took off like a Polaris missile. For 20 minutes, he delivered a tirade on the "irresponsibility of the press."

"We do believe in freedom of the press," Mrs. Neuberger broke in softly. "You don't want to control the press."

"There's no such thing as abusive freedom," Burke barked. And he went on for another 10 minutes.

Note—the column that upset him was Pearson's report that Burke had sent Navy propaganda to foreign embassies. This got the admiral in trouble with the White House.

Mailbag

John S. Henderson, Salisbury, N.C.—You are quite right that Gov. Luther Hodges, now secretary of commerce, did not "jail" Boyd Payton of the textile workers. Payton was jailed after a fair trial and after appeal to the Supreme Court of North Carolina and the U.S. Supreme Court. Secretary Hodges, when governor, did turn down an appeal for clemency taken to him by his present colleague in the Kennedy cabinet, Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, then acting as Payton's attorney. This occurred during a trip Goldberg made to Raleigh not too long before both entered the Kennedy cabinet.

No, No, Not By Gas

If Japanese actors on television must commit suicide let it be by hara-kari, sleeping pills, pistols, or some other means, but not by gas.

The plea came from the Tokyo Gas Company which proclaimed that the preference for gas as the killing agent in television and radio thrillers was bad publicity. The gas company asked these media to cooperate in some other plan in getting rid of the unwanted villain. The company went further than that and asked authors and script writers also to find a substitute.

The officials of the gas company said they were in the middle of a campaign to assure gas users that the volume of carbon monoxide in gas had been reduced. Every year in Tokyo, death by gas—accidental or otherwise—increases during the winter months. This is probably true in this country as well as Tokyo.

Perhaps the appeal of the Tokyo gas company will lead to less self destruction there and will spread to reform in other countries. Suicide by gas is not only bad publicity in Tokyo, it is bad publicity everywhere. And suicide by any means is bad publicity for the human race and should, along with violence generally, be handled like the plague by the entertainment industry.

If President-elect John F. Kennedy ever doubted this fact, it is unlikely that he does now. A group belonging to the International Association of Clothing Designers recently viewed with alarm Mr. Kennedy's taste in clothes. These leading tailors needed the President-elect for wearing two-button suits and favoring padded shoulders, a style allegedly "at least six years out of date."

Well, we don't know what, if anything, Mr. Kennedy will do about this. But with all the weird political fashions now in vogue, it may be better to stick to a style that has worn well and which suits one's constitution.

A Calm Lake for First Month In Office

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the Kennedy administration this is that time—just after dawn—which fishermen love on a lake. There is practically no wind and the place is calm.

Things are still calm for President Kennedy who took office a month ago. There has been practically no wind, although there's been some growling about his programs from various quarters and Republicans have made some cracks.

Odd Traffic Blinker

An out-of-state motorist was driving along a New England highway that was unfamiliar to him. All of a sudden he became aware of a double amber blinker on his left, ahead and above the road. He had never seen this kind of signal and wondered what it meant.

His puzzlement was soon resolved. In a short distance he saw a side road approaching from the right. The blinker was like a permanent caution, warning the approaching driver to be extra careful.

Within limits, the blinker was like a public notice. The purpose of the notice may vary but basically it is intended to call attention to something. It is designed, moreover, to give due notice. Generally this means sufficient time to enable those concerned to take whatever steps may be necessary to protect their rights and interests, whether collective or individual.

By long practice the bona fide newspaper of paid general circulation has been shown to be the best general medium for such notices. That is why the laws of all 50 states make provisions for the publication in such newspapers of hundreds of kinds of public notices. This has come to be a basic part of the American legal system and, indeed, of the democratic process itself.

We, the Women

Gals Use Their Jobs As "Dowry" Come-ons

There's a new kind of "dowry" that marriage-minded girls of today use as bait to get a young man to the altar.

Today's "dowry" isn't a sum of money, or a piece of land, or a house promised by the bride's father to the young man who is willing to take his daughter off his hands.

Today's dot is promised by the bride-to-be herself—and it consists of her willingness and ability to get a job and go to work to help support the marriage.

If a young man wants to finish college before he marries, the girl who doesn't want to wait that long simply says: "I'll quit school and go to work and let you finish." And she promptly goes job hunting so that she can keep her bargain.

In still other cases the young husband gets to depend on his wife's helping earn a living and respects it when the time comes when she wants to quit her job.

But still enough of these marriages work out well so that in increasing numbers girls are willing to take a chance and obey not only to love, honor and obey but also to go job hunting.

is to bring a weekly pay check to the marriage as a modern form of the old-fashioned dowry certainly deserve an "E" for enterprise.

They are getting their young men to the altar without any help from anybody. But whether or not they are always wise in being so willing to provide their own dowries is another question.

In some cases the husbands they are getting are pretty immature. In other cases (where the wife agrees to quit school to send her husband through) there is danger that the husband will outgrow his wife in future years—or, even sooner, come to resent her trying to boss him around and plan his future for him because she is supporting him.

In describing the "hero" of this true life success story, the author says of him:

"His favorite mode of dress consists of sneakers and abbreviated shorts, often with the top button undone. His speech is a nearly inaudible, high speed mumble literally salted with beatnik slang and barracks room epithets. And when he itches in public, he scratches."

The magazine didn't offer that kind of "success" story to young people when I was growing up and it's a shame that is the kind of character it is playing up to the young people of today.

In Debt? These Sources Of Credit May Be Helpful

By FAYE HENLE

If you are in debt and behind in meeting payments on your loans, don't let your debts mount another day without action.

Make a list of all those to whom you owe money, jotting down how many weeks or months you have been delinquent in payment.

Start with the largest debt outstanding. Make a personal call to the institution or person to whom you owe the money. Explain what has caused your delay in repayment. Ask for an extension of that loan. Unless you are absolutely certain of when you can make repayment, don't make any promises; simply present your facts with complete honesty.

Take your small debts and total them. I'm not suggesting you do this to make you panic. Instead, the time has come for you to face facts. If there are installment loans costing you money in interest, figure out whether you would be better off if you were to do what the bankers call "consolidating your debts."

Paid-up life insurance is another source for a loan. Finance companies also offer loans for debt repayment. These generally are more expensive.

Bankers report delinquency on repayment of their installment loans is at the highest rate in six years. A leading finance company says delinquencies are up 15 per cent over a year ago.

The Doctor Says

U. S. Doctor Found Cures For Typhus, Spotted Fever

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

"Is it possible for a man who has never been outside of New Jersey to have Rocky Mountain fever?" asks an overwrought correspondent. "And have you ever heard of 'rackets' or some such thing that cause this sickness? I can't find the word in my dictionary."

My correspondent's confusion is easily understood. What we call Rocky Mountain spotted fever is an infection with tiny organisms called rickettsia, named for their discoverer, Dr. H. T. Ricketts of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Rickettsia are about the size of viruses, that is to say they have been magnified some 40,000 times before they can be seen in the electronic microscope.

Fortunately for us, they cannot move through our covering membranes, as do viruses. They are unable to infect us, in fact, unless they are injected into our tissues by a biting insect like a louse, mite, tick or fly. And the biting insect carrier can't transmit a rickettsial disease unless it has first dined on the blood of an infected human patient or, more often, a sick rat, mouse, rabbit or deer.

Now, what is called the Rocky Mountain spotted fever was first observed in the Snake River and Bitter Root Valleys of Montana. Here it was originally called tick fever because it occurred only during seasons when ticks are prevalent and most often in persons who had suffered tick bites.

Since its discovery the disease has been observed in the eastern states and in distant countries such as South Africa, Italy and France.

Spotted fever, as it is more correctly called, used to be a serious disease. It is featured by chills, high fever and the rash to which it owes its name.

Before its cause was known and isolated and prior to the development of protective vaccines and effective drugs for the treatment, it claimed one patient in five. With present methods of treatment, recovery can almost be assured.

Of particular interest to the one person rather than several people? Perhaps a larger personal loan would be cheaper than several small installment-type loans.

If you have a savings account, the cheapest type of a personal bank loan is one you can get on your savings. This is a better solution than withdrawing savings that may take years to replace.

If you have exhausted your banker as a source for money and you have a mortgage on your home, see whether you could borrow on that mortgage. It is called open-ending your mortgage, advances you money, adding the amount to what you'll owe on your mortgage. It means that it will take longer to get the property free and clear, but this could cost you less in interest than other types of debts and it could restore your creditors' faith in you.

Paid-up life insurance is another source for a loan. Finance companies also offer loans for debt repayment. These generally are more expensive.
